Vietnamese-German Vocational Education
and Advanced Education Offers

Introduction

Dear Readers,

We are happy to see your interest in GENEV – The German Education Network for Employability in Vietnam. GENEV is a network consisting of German service providers for vocational and continuing education.

All members of GENEV are long established companies with year-long experience in German and international vocational education. GENEV's aim is the design and offer of economy-related Vietnamese-German vocational education in cooperation with Vietnamese partners.

GENEV's services for Vietnamese partners range from basic and advanced training for trainers and teachers in accordance with German and international standards, marketing support for joint education offers to the joint conduction of Vietnamese-German vocational and advanced training.

The German Vocational Education System

We would like to illustrate the characteristics of German vocational education – approaches, emphases and aims.

"Training – Made in Germany" is highly respected worldwide due to its heavy practical orientation and the outstanding quality of teachings.

The emphases of German vocational education are:

- Detailed practical courses
- Learnings clearly oriented at workplace needs
- Close cooperation with the economy during the apprenticeship
- Advanced training of teachers with the focus of life-long learning
- Motivation and proficiency of independent learning and acting of apprentices
- Learning and practical work in small groups
- Module division for the training course
- Conduction of interim and final exams

From our viewpoint, the German vocational education system offer professional and efficient training with positive aspects for both society and economy and can be successfully implemented with some modifications especially in Vietnam.

GENEV

Together with our Vietnamese partners we aim to create a Vietnamese-German vocational education service offer with German or international certificates. Our Vietnamese partners can be companies and vocational schools as well as education investors.

From our viewpoint, all Vietnamese-German course offers should be oriented towards the following aims:

- Course participant preparation for future work place tasks and the needs of both the Vietnamese and the international economy
- Teaching of required know how, technical skills and individual strengths such as independent and responsible learning and working
- High quality education offers ("Training Made in Germany")
- Positive career outlooks for scholars, quick placement in well paid work places
- Diverse cooperation with the economy during the apprenticeship on the side of both educational provider and course participants
- Awarding of German, Vietnamese-German or international certificates
- Economic success of the course offers, allowing course participants as well as Vietnamese and German project partners to benefit

GENEV offers its Vietnamese partners the option of jointly conducting Vietnamese-German vocational education offers in Vietnamese educational facilities.

GENEV Cooperation

Being a member of VVTA, we are thankful for their competent consulting and great support in our cooperation with Vietnamese partners.

The success of Vietnamese-German education projects and vocational training has been facilitated through our positive cooperation with the Vietnamese Ministry of Labour, Invalids and Social Affairs, MOLISA, and MOET, the Vietnamese Ministry of Education and Training.

GENEV also keeps close contacts with the German agencies abroad such as the AHK Vietnam and the GTZ.

Our Vietnamese cooperation partners are strong success-oriented federal and private education providers, companies or education investors. We are thankful for the successful cooperation with our Vietnamese partners.

GENEV's commitment is supported by the German Federal Ministry for Education and Research (BMBF) and its initiative iMOVE, which promotes international cooperation and supports the initiation of collaborations and business relationships in vocational training and continuing education.
